PRACHUAP
KHIRI KHAN &
HUA HIN

TOURISM AUTHORITY OF THAILAND

Prachuap Khiri Khan is a seaside province located some 281 kilometers south of Bangkok. Its history dates back to the Ayutthaya period. Its original name was Bang Nangrom or Muang Na Rang. It is on the bank of Nang Rom Canal called by the villagers Khlong I-Rom. It was abandoned during the fall of Ayutthaya. Later a new town was established at the mouth of Khlong I-Rom and the name was changed to Prachuap Khiri Khan during the reign of King Rama IV in the year 1845. Prachuap Khiri-Khan is now divided into seven Amphoes namely: Hua Hin, Pran Buri, Kui Buri, Muang, Thap Sakae Bang Saphan and Bang Saphan Noi, with a total area of 6367.6 square kilometers. Its boundary stretches out as far as Phetchaburi in the north, the Gulf of Thailand in the east, Myanmar in the west, and Chumphon in the south.

Transportation

By Private Car

From Bangkok, drive for about 3 hours along the Highway 35 (Thon Buri-Pak Tho route) via Samut Songkhram then turn left to Phetkasem Road (the Highway 4) via Phetchaburi to Prachuap Khiri Khan, a total distance of 281 kilometers.

Another route might otherwise be taken from Bangkok via Phuttha Monthon, Nakhon Pathom-Ratchaburi-Phetchaburi-Prachuap Khiri Khan, a total distance of 281 kilometers.

Tourist Attractions and Places of Interest

Attractions in Amphoe Hua Hin

Phra Ratchaniwet Marukha Thaiwan (พระราชนิเวศน์มฤคทายวัน)

Phra Ratchaniwet Marukha Thaiwan, once a summer palace of King Rama VI, is situated at KM. 216 on the Highway No. 4 with a 2-kilometer left turn. It is a Thai style teak building called "Ruan Pan Ya" with a trapezoid roof, a high, open basement, and a long exquisite roofed balcony running all the way to the beach. The palace is renowned for its balcony. It was moved from Chao Samran Beach and is now under the Border Patrol Police General Headquarters' charge.

To visit in a group, please contact Commander of Special Training Division, Rama VI Camp, Amphoe Cha-am, Phetchaburi Tel. (032) 471-401 Ext. Division 3.

Hua Hin Klai Kangwon Palace (พระราชนิเวศน์ไก่กังวะ หัวหิน)

King Phra Pokklao commanded it built in the year 1926. The palace is located three kilometers from Hua Hin District Hall. A permit must be obtained from the Royal Household Office prior to a visit.

Hua Hin (หัวหิน)

At Km. 232 of Highway No. 35 or 195 Kms from Bangkok there is a two kilometers branch road on the left leading to Hua Hin Beach which has been very famous in Thailand.

Hua Hin in Thai means 'Stone Head.' That is exactly the land mark of the resort town. To the left of the main beach stands the namesake, a big boulder on a pile of stones. To the right, stretches the fabled beach of Hua

Hin an expanse of sandy beach reaching away to the distant Khao Takiap Hills. Accessibility in Hua Hin or to other tourist attractions is not difficult. Hua Hin has trains, air-conditioned and non airconditioned buses, local buses, minibuses, motorcycles, bicycles for rent and tricycles for hire. Consult Tourist Information Center on Damneonkasem Rd. in the case of having any problems.

Hua Hin Royal Golf Course (สนามกอล์ฟหัวหิน)

Situated some 100 meters from Hua Hin Railway Station, the course is open for golfers in general with a charge of 300 baht per day for weekdays and 450 baht per day for holidays. There are golf clubs for hire at 300 baht and shoes at 50 baht and another 120 baht must be paid for a caddie. For further information please contact Tel. 2434731-9 ext. Sports Section.

Khao Takiap/Khao Krailat (เขาตะเกียบ/เขาไกรลาด)

These two hill are only four kilometers from Hua Hin township. A local bus service from Hua Hin to Khao Takiap is located on the sea shore. It is convenient to get to the top of Khao Takiap where there is the Khao Takiap monastery, a famous monastery for those who practice meditation. The view from up there is splendid. There is also Khao Krailat Hill which offers a spectacular view of the surrounding coast.

Ko Singto (เกาะสิงโต)

Fishing lovers can enjoy a day's outing to Singto Island, just a few kilometres from Hua Hin or Khao Takiap Beaches where some boats for hire are available.

Sea Pine Tree Garden (Suan Son Pradiphat) (สวนสนประดิษฐ์)

This garden is located eight kilometers from Hua Hin City. A left turn is made at Km.240 for a distance of 500 meters. The original name of this garden was "Pradiphat Garden Convalescence and Relaxation Area" and is taken care of by the Army Welfare Office. There are food shops and accommodations for the public. Further details can be obtained from Tel. (032) 511239-40.

Khao Tao (เขาเต่า)

This hill is located in the area of Amphoe Hua Hin. Between Km.243-244 there is a one kilometer branch road on the left which leads to the spot. There are two beautiful beaches called Hat Sai Nai and Hat Sai Yai.

In the evening, one can wander over to the fishing pier and watch the return of the fishing boats from their daily run, an always fascination scene with great baskets of fish being unloaded and distributed to buyers under theatrical floodlights.

For these popular attractions, tourists can easily reach in short just by local transportation such as local buses, minibuses, tricycles, bicycles or even by walking along the beach.

Namtok Pa La-u (Pa La-u Waterfalls) (น้ำตกป่าล่า-u)

Located within Pa La-u or La-u Forest which covers a yearlong verdant area of 273,125 rai where various kinds of wild animals and a group of Karen people share their habitation. The Pa La-u Waterfalls comprise La-u Yai Waterfall and La-u Noi Waterfall which cascades beautifully down 11 tiers of rocks.

To get there from Hua Hin, take the Highway 3219 for about 63 kilometers then turn right to Fa Prathan Village and drive for another 4 kilometers, or take a minibus in front of Suriya Colour Lab, Sa Song Road. The minibus leaves Hua Hin at 11.30 a.m., 1.00 p.m., and 3.00 p.m. while the back trip leaves Fa Prathan Village at 6.30 a.m., 8.00 a.m., and 9.00 a.m.

Attractions in Amphoe Pran Buri and Amphoe Kui Buri

The Mouth of Pran Buri River (ปากน้ำป่าบุรี)

Located in Amphoe Pran Buri on Phetkasem Road with a 14-kilometer turn at kilometer 256, the area is fisherman community.

Khao Sam Roi Yot National Park (ឧបយានពេជ្រាតិខាសាមរីយូណុត)

This park is located in the vicinity of Amphoe Kui Buri or 63 Kms from Hua Hin. It occupies an area of 98 square kilometers or about 61,300 rai with complicated ranges of limestone mountains, a flood-plain next to the seashore, and several islands. It is also home of a great variety of plants and animals especially birds with which it abounds during November-February. Khao Sam Roi Yot was declared a national park on June 28, 1966.

To get to Khao Sam Roi Yot National Park, follow direction signs marking the remaining distances of 38 kilometers and 15 kilometers at kilometers 256 and 286.5 respectively. Group tour can go by train from Bangkok Railway Station as far as Pran Buri and take a minibus for another 33 kilometers to the park.

For accommodation, please contact National Parks Division, Royal Forestry Department, Tel. 5790529, 5794842.

Attractions within Khao Sam Roi Yot National Park include

1 Tham Kaeo, (តោកេវ) a cave situated some 23 kilometres from Pran Buri on the way to Ban Bang Pu (Bang Pu Village). The cave is very charming yet dangerous due to a nearby deep chasm. It would be better to take along a flashlight or a lamp and have a park's official lead there.

2 Tham Phraya Nakhon, (តោរារម្យានគុណ) a cave among Sam Roi Yot Mountains which soar high into the air and stretch for a long distance. Monsoon zones of the Central Region and the South are thus divided. With a large number of ridges, unlike any other mountains, Khao Sam Roi Yot stands as a landmark for seamen and also provides a good shelter for ships in the storm. During the reign of King Rama I, Chao Phraya Nakhon, a nobleman, took shelter from a storm for days in a cave at Khao Sam Roi Yot and had a well dug for drinking water. The well is later called "Bo Phraya Nakhon".

Bo Phraya Nakhon is about 1 meter wide and 4 meter deep and lined with aged trapezoid bricks. There used to be an old heartwood building over the well but it already tumbled down. Later a hunter found the cave and named it "Tham Phraya Nakhon" or "Tham Bo Phraya Nakhon". It is a huge and fascinating cave with a big hole on the roof through which a shaft of light can reach and permits the growth of various kinds of plants. Phra Thi Nang Khuha Kharuhat or Khuha Kharuhat Pavilion lends the most attractive sight to the cave. It is a four-porched building first constructed in Bangkok in 1890 during the reign of King Rama V by Prince Khachon Charatwong. The pavilion was dismantled and moved to the cave where it was reconstructed under the supervision of Phraya Chonlayut Yothin. Its gable tops were raised by the King himself. The typically beautiful Phra Thi Nang Khuha Kharuhat is the show-piece of Tham Phraya Nakhon and has up to present become the symbol of Prachuap Khiri Khan.

To get to Tham Phraya Nakhon, it is the most convenient to go by boat. Boats for hire are available at Bang Pu Village from where the travel takes about 30-40 minutes.

3 Tham Sai (តោសៅ)

This cave is located on the same route as Tham Kaeo, i.e., passing Ban Phu Noi, Ban Phu Yai, Ban Khao Daeng, and Ban Khung Tanot where Tham Sai is situated nearby. To access the cave, one has to climb the hill for a period of 20-30 minutes.
